the defendants herein, did knowingly and intentionally combine, conspire, and agree with each other and with diverse other persons known and unknown to the Grand Jury, to commit an offense against the United States, that is, to knowingly and intentionally possess with intent to distribute and distribute controlled substances, to wit: one (1) kilogram or more of a mixture or substance containing a detectable amount of heroin, a Schedule I Narcotic Drug Controlled Substance; two hundred and eighty (280) grams or more of a mixture or substance containing a detectable amount of cocaine base (crack), a Schedule II Narcotic Drug Controlled Substance; five (5) kilograms or more of a mixture or substance containing a detectable amount of cocaine, a Schedule II, Narcotic Drug Controlled Substance; one hundred (100) kilograms or more of a mixture or substance containing a detectable amount of marijuana, a Schedule I, Controlled Substance; detectable amounts of Oxycodone (commonly known as Percocet), a Schedule II Controlled Substance, detectable amounts of Alprazolam (commonly known as Xanax), a Schedule IV Controlled Substance, detectable amounts of Buprenorphine (commonly known as Suboxone) a Schedule III Controlled Substance, and detectable amounts of Tramadol a Schedule IV Controlled Substance, all within one thousand (1,000) feet of the real properties comprising housing facilities owned by a public housing authority, that is, the Vista Hermosa Public Housing Project, the Villa Espana Public Housing Project, the Luis Llorens Torres Public Housing Project, and other areas nearby. All in violation of Title 21, U.S.C. §§ 841(a)(1), 846, and 860.

I. OBJECT OF THE CONSPIRACY

The object of the conspiracy was to operate a drug-trafficking organization (DTO) to distribute controlled substances at the Vista Hermosa Public Housing Project, the Villa Espana Public Housing Project, the Luis Llorens Torres Public Housing Project, and other areas in the Municipality of San Juan in the continental United States, all for significant financial gain and profit.

II. MANNER AND MEANS OF THE CONSPIRACY

The manner and means by which the defendants and co-conspirators would accomplish and further the object of the conspiracy included among other things the following:

1. It was part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that the defendants and their co-conspirators would operate several drug points in the Vista Hermosa Public Housing Project, the Villa Espana Public Housing Project, the Luis Llorens Torres Public Housing Project, and other areas in the municipality of San Juan.
2. It was further part of the manner and means and of the conspiracy that the defendants and their co-conspirators would sell street quantities amounts of heroin, cocaine base (“crack”), cocaine, marijuana, and prescription pills at the drug distribution points.
3. It was further part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that the defendants and their co-conspirators would sell the heroin, cocaine base (“crack”), cocaine, marijuana, and prescription pills in small “baggies,” vials, decks, or other packaging for sale at the drug distribution points.
4. It was part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that the defendants and their co-conspirators would own different drug brands within the drug points located at the Vista Hermosa Public Housing Project, the Villa Espana Public Housing Project the Luis Llorens Torres Public Housing Project, and other areas in the municipality of San Juan. The different drug brands were identified by different stickers, colored caps, and colored foils.
5. It was part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that within the Vista Hermosa Public Housing Project, different drug brands owned by different co-conspirators would sell at the drug points.
6. It was part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that the defendants and their co-conspirators would receive heroin, cocaine, cocaine base (“crack”), marijuana, and prescription pills already packaged for street sale distribution in the Vista Hermosa Public Housing Project, the Villa Espana Public Housing Project, the Luis Llorens Torres Public Housing Project, and other areas in the municipality of San Juan.

7. It was part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that the defendants and their co-conspirators would use abandoned apartments in the Vista Hermosa Public Housing Project, the Villa Espana Public Housing Project, the Luis Llorens Torres Public Housing Project, and other areas in several municipalities to prepare the drugs for distribution at the drug points.
8. It was part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that the leaders would rent different properties or locations using home rental applications (eg., AirBnb, etc.) in order to use them as stash places to store kilogram quantities of heroin, cocaine, cocaine base (“crack”), marijuana, US Currency, firearms and ammunition in order to avoid detection from law enforcement. Additionally, these locations were also commonly used to store, cook, pack, and prepare narcotics for street distribution.
9. It was part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that members of the DTO received shipments of narcotics at the coastlines of Puerto Rico from vessels that had traveled from Venezuela and Dominican Republic.

10. It was part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that the members of the DTO would meet inside the Vista Hermosa Public Housing Project, the Villa Espana Public Housing Project, and the Luis Llorens Torres Public Housing Project to discuss the operations of the DTO and to plan violent acts against members of their own drug trafficking organization or members of a rival drug trafficking gang.

11. It was part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that when co-conspirators held meetings to plan shootings and other violent acts, members of the DTO dressed in black or dark clothing in order to hide from rival gang members, avoid identification, and avoid law enforcement detection. During the conspiracy members of the organization would carry firearms of different makes, models, and calibers such as pistols and high-power rifles.

12. It was part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that during the conspiracy, members would carry additional magazines and ammunition in backpacks for quick reloading of firearms during shootings.

13. It was further part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that some of the defendants and their co-conspirators would collect a portion of the proceeds from each of the drug point sellers at Vista Hermosa Public Housing Project as "la prote" ("the protection") to pay the lookouts.

14. It was part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that lookouts at Vista Hermosa Public Housing Project would yell "atiendelos" ("take care of it") when they detected law enforcement coming into the housing project.

15. It was a further part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that some of the defendants and their co-conspirators would have access to vehicles in the name of others in order to transport money, narcotics, firearms and ammunition.
16. It was further part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that the leaders of the drug trafficking organization would order and execute disciplinary action to be imposed upon co-conspirators that broke the rules of the DTO.
17. It was further part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that members of the drug trafficking organization would use intimidation, force, and violence in order to maintain control of the drug trafficking operations, intimidate rival drug trafficking organizations, and discipline members of their own drug trafficking organization.
18. It was further part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that some of the defendants and their co-conspirators would transfer their firearms to other members of the drug trafficking organization in order to protect themselves, the narcotics, and the proceeds derived from the sales.
19. It was further part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that some of the defendants and their co-conspirators would routinely possess, carry, brandish, and use firearms to protect themselves and their drug trafficking organization.
20. It was further part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that the defendants and their co-conspirators would act in different roles in order to further the goals of the conspiracy, to wit: leaders/suppliers, enforcers, runners, sellers, lookouts, and facilitators.
21. It was further part of the manner and means of the conspiracy that some of the defendants and their co-conspirators would use two-way radios (“walkie-talkies” referred to as scanners) and cell phones in order to communicate and alert the presence of law enforcement agents or members of rival gangs and to discuss among themselves the operations of the drug distribution points.

III. ROLES OF THE MEMBERS OF THE CONSPIRACY

Leaders/suppliers controlled and supervised the drug trafficking operations at the drug distribution points located within the Vista Hermosa Public Housing Project, the Villa Espana Public Housing Project, and the Luis Llorens Torres Public Housing Project. During the span of the conspiracy, leaders purchased kilogram quantities of narcotics and oversaw the sale of such narcotics at the drug distribution points. They would receive proceeds from the sale of controlled substances distributed at the drug distribution points. Some of the leaders of the organization would also oversee the transportation and distribution of kilogram quantities of cocaine in the continental United States and would derive profits from those drug trafficking activities. Additionally, leaders would perform or carry out several acts within the conspiracy including but not limited to, supplying narcotics and/or firearms and/or ammunition to the drug distribution organization and/or drug distribution points. At various times during the course of the conspiracy, leaders purchased firearms and allowed members of the conspiracy to carry such firearms and ammunition in order to protect the drug distribution activities. Leaders would also possess firearms in furtherance of the drug trafficking activities of the organization.

Enforcers did possess, carry, brandish, use and discharge firearms to protect the leaders and members of the drug trafficking organization, the narcotics, and the proceeds derived from their sales, and to further accomplish the goals of the conspiracy. Enforcers often acted upon instructions given by the leaders of this organization. Enforcers would often provide protection to the drug trafficking organization's drug-distribution points.

Runners worked under the supervision of the leaders of the drug trafficking organization. They were responsible for providing sufficient narcotics to the sellers for further distribution at the drug points. They were also responsible for collecting the proceeds of drug sales and paying the street sellers. They would also supervise and make sure that there were street sellers for every shift at the drug points. At various times, they would be responsible for recruiting street sellers and additional runners. The runners would also supervise the sellers and the daily activities at the drug points.

Sellers would distribute street quantity amounts of heroin, crack cocaine, cocaine, and marijuana. As sellers, they were accountable for the drug proceeds and the narcotics sold at the drug-distribution points. At times, sellers would use two-way radios ("walkie-talkies," "scanners") and cell phones in order to communicate with other members of the organization.

Facilitators would serve as messengers for members of the conspiracy. Some facilitators would also work as lookouts for the organization using two-way radios or walkie-talkies to alert sellers and runners of the presence of law enforcement and rival drug traffickers. Some facilitators would aid the leaders and other members of the organization in the handling and management of the organization's proceeds.

All in violation of Title 21 U.S.C. §§ 841(a)(1)(b)(1)(A), 846 and 860.
